EUCALYPTUS OIL. DISTILLED FROM THE LEAVES OF SELECTED SPECIES OF

EUCALYPIUS. EUCALYPTUS OIL has long taken a fore-most place as a "household remedy" in Australia. When applied externally it has a Sept. 19, EMPRESS OF JAPAN, British stramer, powerful stimulant and so thing action but does not blister the most sensitive skin and no applimuscular rhoumatism. Taken internally in small doses, it acts as a powerful stimulant and autispasmodic, whilst its scoondary action induces sleep. The penetrating agreeable vapour of the Oil is additive, and when inhaled relieves Asthma. Bronchitis, Catarrh, and Sore Throat. It is also a most powerful setisuptic and ger. micide, being three times as effectual as Carbolio Acid in preventing development of Bacteria, its uses in this direction being very numerous. DICTIONARY. DICTIONARY. WITH THE PUSTI AND MANDARIN PEONUNCIATION. in Angle-Chinese Dictionary, published at the Daily Fress Office, Hongkong

For comprehensiveness and practical service this Work stands unrivalled. All the new words which the Chinese have of latey ears been compelled to coin to express the numerous objects in machinery, photography, telegraphy, and in science generally, which the rapid advance of foreign relations has imposed upon them, are here given in extenso. Each and every word is fully illustrated and explained, forming exercises for students of a most instructive nature. Both the Court and Punti pronunciations are given the accents being carefully marked on the best principle hitherto attained. The typography displays the success of an attempt to make the Chinese and English type correspond in the size of body, thereby effecting a vast economy of space, achieving a clearness not previously attained, and dispensing with those vast margins and vacant spaces which have heretofore charactarized Chinese publications.

To illustrate the vast scope of the work the following facts are submitted for consideration: Chalmers Vocabulary contains about 16.000 Chinese characters, and Medhurst's English and Chinese Dictionary about 100,000, whilst this work contains more than 50,000 English CONSULAR INVOICES of Goods for United words, and upwards of 600,000 Chinese characters. Again, despite all the grammars and other elementary works as yet published, the student of this difficult language absolutely requires examples to display the various appli-cations and equivalents of different words which have one general meaning. Of these examples this work contains more than five times as

For practical purposes the arrangement of the work is so complete, that a reference to its pages enables a person who understands English to communicate effectively with natives who understand nothing but Chinese. In this respect the work will be found indispensable to all Europeans residing in China, and to the natives themselves it explains subjects fully with which very few indeed of them are perfectly acquainted.
To parties resident in England and interested in China it cannot but be invaluable occasion-

-It comprises upwards of two thousand large quarto pages.
